FEATHERED HEADDRESS AT POULTRY SHOW INTRIGUES MODELS—One of 6,322 entries that were in the poultry show at the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto is this crested Polish chicken with its elegant head feathers. Two interested visitors are Mrs. McFarland and Miss Lumsden, models from the fair fashion show. The poultry show is only one of the many events in which agriculturists from all over Canada exhibit their prize livestock and farm produce.—G.N.S. photo.

JAP WAR CRIMINALS HANG—An eleven-power court in Tokyo doctored Japanese war criminals to hang. Hiroshi Togo, premier of Japan, and six of his leaders died and 19 others were given life imprisonment. Fifteen war criminals were hanged on gallows like this in Germany during the past month. In Tokyo, similar gallows carried out the sentences.—G.N.S. photo.

HER FAVORITE PEE—Some may not agree with six-year-old Mary Lou Reynolds of South Bay, Ont., but she's "add" on her favorite pet, Jimmie the mouse, who is just as nature made him. Jimmie loves raw fish, liver, ketchup, milk and eggs, not the cheapest of diets, but makes up for it by sleeping from December to March.—G.N.S. photo.

FREAK ACCIDENT TAKES LIFE OF THREE-YEAR-OLD—Frank Hardwood took the life of Kenneth Hardwood, three years with his dog, Laddie, who tried frantically to rescue him. Kenneth strangled while playing in his brother's car.—G.N.S. photo.

RIFA HAYWORTH, with a shy smile in his blue pants for the press on a Pan American Mexico City-bound plane while her publicity-prince Ali Khan (son of Aga Khan, emir) of the world's richest potentates hales out in the rest room of the airport. The two have been linked romantically ever since they met on a vacation in France. Ali arrived from Asia recently. They refused to answer any questions referring to their future plans.—G.N.S. photo.

Circling and scratching of Laddie at the altar, soon beside the Harbansome at Kibbide, Ont., attracted the attention of the boy's mother, Mrs. J. P. Macdonald, who is dead. She left her living and ran to the car to find her son's limp body hanging by the door.—G.N.S. photo.

STAYS ON JOB DESPITE DANGER—Catherine Robinson, 17, a telephone operator, stayed at her job to spread a fire alarm until the cables were burned out and there was rescue by two men of the more than 125 volunteers fighting the blaze at Bruce Mines, Ont. Damage is estimated at more than $500,000. A change of mind saved many buildings.—G.N.S. photo.

WINNIE TRIP—Pretty Pat Taylor of Vancouver, B.C., is on her way to the bright lights of New York. She won a "Daisy Mae" contest and the prize was an all-expense paid journey to the big city.—G.N.S. photo.

STARTING YOUNG—Probably the youngest "permanent" customer on this continent, one-year-old Ronald Regan of Chicago, Ill., registers the nonchalance of a veteran hockey player as he sits beside the driver with her new curls neatly styled.—G.N.S. photo.

"THANK YOU" PARTY—Hundred of neighbors came to the birthday party which was given by Elmer Gibbons, of Stroud, Ont., June 10. The guests were those who contributed $2.00 in cash, from May and June stock after fire had destroyed Gibbons' barn and burning crop late in August. The party was his way of saying "Thank"—G.N.S. photo.

NEW GRANDPARENTS see King George and Queen Elizabeth, seen chatting with Viscount Alexander, governor-general of Canada, when he flew to London for the unveiling of the memorial to Franklin Roosevelt. "It's a fine, spanking boy," said the King after seeing his grandson soon after birth.—G.N.S. photo.

ROYAL BABY'S FATHER—A son, who one day may rule the Commonwealth, has been born to Princess Elizabeth. The royal baby, who has been described as a "bunny boy," weighed seven pounds, six ounces at birth. He is the former husband of Jane Wyman and the grandson of Hollywood's Screen Players Guild.—G.N.S. photo.

DELIGHTED—The Duke of Windsor looks extremely delighted at the news that a baby prince has been born to Princess Elizabeth. He has wished "every happiness" for the royal infant.—G.N.S. photo.

TWO INJURED WHEN CAR LEFT THE HIGHWAY—A moped auto, driven by L.A.C. William Kenett, 28, Toronto, reversed off the road and plunged down a 75-foot embankment while in a cigarette. The accident took place along the Queen Elizabeth Way, west of Oakville, Ont. Kenett suffered a broken neck and internal injuries in the crash. Paton, who was only slightly injured in the crash, climbed back up the embankment and flagged a passing motorist to get aid for his friend. Above is the wrecked car seen after the accident.—G.N.S. photo.

STAND BY SON IN WALDORF MURDER—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Barrows, parents of Ralph Barrows, Jr., who is held for the murder of Colin C. MacKellar, Montreal textile executive, at the Waldorf Astoria, are shown in New York as they appeared at the Toronto press. They are divorced but have joined forces to aid their son in the forthcoming fight for the U.S.—G.N.S. photo.
